EXPLANATORY NOTE.

The compiler and publishers, who have collaborated in the preparation of this little book, take pleasure in presenting it to the public for what it is worth. We believe that from its nature it will meet a felt want and demand. As the first occupant of a field hitherto untrod it will, of course, contain a number of mistakes. It is also incident to a college town that much of its population is of a transitory nature and subject to frequent change. To rectify the errors that must necessarily creep in, we desire to do all that is possible and we have accordingly left blank pages in the book for the insertion of new names. The "Hawk-Eye" will endeavor to report all changes of location or increase of population, whether by emigration or natural increase, and by noting these changes as reported and transcribing them into your copy you will be able to keep your directory up-to-date with a little exertion from time to time.
